

Master of Arts in Christian Leadership and Community Development CURRICULUM

Program Description

The Master of Arts in Christian Leadership (MACL) prepares men and women for organizational leadership roles in churches or parachurch organizations with wisdom and compassion. It is offered by coursework and dissertation and is designed to help men and women learn what God has uniquely gifted them to lead in whatever ministry setting they are called to serve.

Program Objectives

- i) To empower students for transformational leadership within their ministry context.
- ii) To provide students with advanced competencies in organizational theory, management, and leadership skills in practice and in research.
- iii) To enable students to integrate personal, biblical ethics, integrity, moral values and practice with sound management theory in leadership vocations including business, community, and faith- based service.
- iv) To expose students to business laws that influence leadership, management, and financial practices
- v) To enable students to demonstrate that ethics, integrity, and morality are in harmonious synergy with sound Leadership and Management theory and practice.
- vi) To prepare students for advanced studies in leadership and/or professional ministry.
